The sale of Manor House offers a rare opportunity to acquire a beautifully presented period residence with the added advantage of a potential self contained detached annexe/bungalow, subject to planning approval, in the centre of this small attractive village surrounded by open green belt countryside. Manor House itself offers light and spacious accommodation which has been sympathetically modernised and beautifully maintained. The joiners workshop immediately adjacent to the principal dwelling would readily convert into self contained accommodation for a dependant relative or an excellent home office suite if preferred and subject to obtaining the necessary approval. Furthermore, a significant brick store building at the front of the principal dwelling could also be incorporated to form additional accommodation to Manor House, if required, again subject to consent.

Cattal is a small yet convenient village located midway between Harrogate and York and the nearby villages of Kirk Hammerton and Tockwith offer a good range of everyday facilities including village shops, primary school and sporting facilities. A railway station, only some 1 mile out of the village, provides frequent services to Leeds, Harrogate and York in turn giving access to London and Edinburgh. The A1(M) motorway is within approximately 3.5 miles to the west, providing easy access to the motorways infrastructure.

The accommodation of the principal dwelling briefly includes a beautiful drawing room open to the full pitch of the roof with exposed beams and trusses, rustic brick fireplace and glazed doors opening into the rear garden. A second sitting room features a minster stone fireplace surround and wood burning stove and a separate dining room features a cast iron fireplace, ceiling beams and built in cupboard in display recess. There is a light and spacious staircase hallway with turned oak staircase and space for a study area beneath. The family breakfast kitchen has an Aga in tiled recess, a comprehensive range of wall and base units in cream with granite preparation surfaces, integrated appliances and oak flooring. The adjoining utility room has additional storage cupboards, door to the rear garden and access to a guest cloakroom. There is also internal access to the garage.

At first floor level is a lovely principal bedroom with exposed roof truss and beams, matching fitted wardrobes and an en suite shower room. There are then three additional bedrooms, two with fitted furniture, and a lovely house bath/shower room with modern suite.

Outside, a gated driveway provides ample private parking and in turn gives access to an integral garage with automatic up and over door and integral store room and there is a separate detached single garage with built in cupboards. At the front of the property is a substantial brick outbuilding which would readily form a charming separate garden room or could be incorporated to provide additional accommodation to the principal dwelling, subject to consent. Sitting immediately to the east of Manor House is the joiners workshop which is a substantial building and in reality would only require internal fit out to create single storey self contained accommodation if required.

There are formal gardens immediately in front of the house and large principally lawned gardens to the rear including paved patio areas, vegetable beds and timber summer house facing south with country views. In all the grounds extend to almost $\frac{3}{4}$ of an acre.
